CPCS Renewal Test (NOCN)

Ensure your CPCS Blue Competent Operator card stays current by successfully completing the CPCS Renewal Test. This test verifies that your knowledge of each plant category or group on your card remains up-to-date.

- The above work based qualification would need to be completed to apply for your blue CPCS card. CITB HS&E Touchscreen within 2 year timeframe of card application.
- Valid for 5 years and if renewed within this time period only the CPCS Renewal Test and the CITB HS&E Test would need to be completed.

Tailored for experienced plant operators, our tests cover essential industry knowledge and are developed in collaboration with the construction plant and trades sector. Each renewal test is a brief 15-minute assessment, and you'll need to take a test for each group of categories listed on your card.

If you've added a new category to your CPCS Blue Competent Operator card within two years of its expiration, you're exempt from taking the renewal test for that specific category during the card renewal process. Please use the renewal tool to find out what renewal test you need :
